

DEPARTMENT OF CLINICAL LABORATORY SCIENCES
SCHOOL OF ALLIED HEALTH PROFESSIONS
VIRGINIA COMMONWEALTH UNIVERSITY

Faculty Position

The Department of Clinical Laboratory Sciences at Virginia Commonwealth University invites applications for a full-time faculty position. The Department, located on the MCV Campus of VCU, is one of nine departments in the School of Allied Health Professions. VCU is a large urban, research-extensive institution with a richly diverse university community and commitment to multicultural opportunities. The Department offers both B.S. and M.S. degree programs in Clinical Laboratory Sciences and provides the CLS specialty track in the Ph.D. program in Health Related Sciences.

The successful candidate will be responsible for teaching hematology and urine/body fluid analysis courses on-campus and on-line at the undergraduate and graduate levels, interacting with clinical faculty at affiliated clinical sites, directing graduate students' research, and advising and mentoring graduate and undergraduate students. Also expected are scholarly activities/ research, university service responsibilities and professional activities.

Applicants must have a Master's degree (Ph.D. preferred), national certification as a generalist in the clinical laboratory, clinical or college teaching experience, and excellent interpersonal, written, and oral communication skills. Preference will be given to applicants with specialist certification in hematology, demonstrated scholarly productivity, and a record of active participation in professional societies.

Salary, rank, and eligibility for tenure will be commensurate with education and experience.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.
